RTX Telecom participates in a capital increase for Thomsen Bioscience A/S

Summary: New and existing shareholders in Thomsen Bioscience A/S have injected DKK 8.9 million additional capital into the company.

New and existing shareholders in the biotech company Thomsen Bioscience A/S have injected DKK 8.9 million additional capital through the issue of new shares in the company. The capital increase is carried through as Thomsen Bioscience has achieved the first milestone defined by the shareholders.

The capital increase consists of a cash injection of DKK 7.2 million contributed by new and existing shareholders and the conversion into equity capital of DKK 1.7 million outstanding debt in the company owed to existing shareholders.

RTX Telecom has previously invested DKK 5.3 million in shares in Thomsen Bioscience. As part of the capital increase just carried out RTX Telecom has subscribed to new shares in Thomsen Bioscience for a market price of DKK 1.7 million. The capital increase has not led to any significant change in RTX Telecom's hitherto 19.9 percent holding in Thomsen Bioscience.

Apart from its joint ownership, RTX Telecom has a partnership agreement with Thomsen Bioscience.

The Thomsen Bioscience capital increase is not expected to have a significant influence on RTX Telecom's turnover and earnings for the 2004/05 financial year.
