RTX Telecom has entered an agreement with a Korean producer on the development of an advanced GSM/GPRS mobile telephone

Summary: RTX Telecom A/S has entered an agreement with a Korean producer on the development of an advanced GSM/GPRS mobile telephone with built-in camera, colour display, WAP, MMS, polyphonic ring tones, etc. The agreement is worth a lower double-figure million amount in Danish crowns.

RTX Telecom A/S has entered an agreement with a Korean mobile telephone producer on the development of an advanced GSM/GPRS mobile telephone with built-in camera, colour display, WAP, MMS, polyphonic ring tones, etc.

The mobile telephone will be based on Motorola Semiconductor's i.250 platform with a view to mass production in the middle of 2004.

The agreement is worth a lower double-figure million amount in Danish crowns.

Under the agreement RTX Telecom has been made responsible for development and type approval, while the customers themselves will attend to industrial design, production and sales.

The agreement is expected to have a positive impact on RTX Telecom's net turnover and earnings for the 2003/04 financial year. The management will present its expectations for the 2003/04 financial year in conjunction with the publication of RTX Telecom's annual report for 2002/03 in December 2003.

Best regards,
RTX Telecom A/S
